Faculty Expertise Sharing

2020-2021 Semester – IV, Second Year B.Ed

Faculty Expertise Sharing

Objectives of Faculty Expertise Sharing

1. Provide varied experiences in understanding the concept
2. Learn innovative techniques used to teach ideas or concepts
3. Provide teacher educators teach students with a different mindset
4. Collaborate and discussion among teacher educators from different colleges for team teaching lessons
5. Assimilation of ideas and thoughts among teacher educators.

Faculty Expertise Sharing was conducted by collaborating with two colleges i.e. Bombay Teacher's Training College & Kapila Khandvala College of Education. The collaboration began by the staff in-charges communicating with each other and sharing the list of courses of taught by the faculty of their respective colleges for courses in Semester 4.

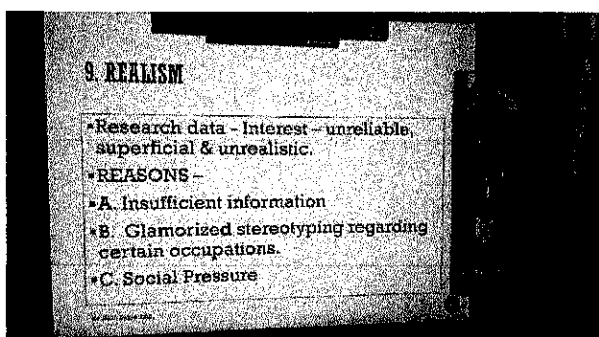

The list was shared among the faculty members of their respective colleges along with the contact details and email id's. The respective staff contacted the faculty from the other colleges and scheduled a session either individually or jointly as a team teaching programme. The sessions were arranged based on the time suitability of both colleges. Faculty transacted the faculty expertise sharing using the ZOOM meeting link or through the gmeet link.

Feedback

Students appreciated the faculty expertise sharing sessions. Students liked the innovativeness and activity-based teaching. Students found the session to be interesting and enriching. The session seemed to be fun and the examples to be very relevant and apt. Students also appreciated the way the session was planned and organized. Students suggested to have more such programs and team-teaching sessions. The sessions were found to be very interactive with sufficient scope for discussion. The students from all three colleges appreciated the faculty exchange program and were positive to future collaboration. Team teaching session conducted between staff of SXIE and Bombay Teachers Training College and St. Xavier's Institute of Education was highly effective and SXIE students suggested to include similar team-teaching practices within the different courses.

Outcome of the Session

1. Exposure to innovative ways of teaching

2. Different perspective on the idea/concept
3. Interaction with students of different colleges
4. Inter -exchange of thoughts among between students of different colleges

Dear Madam,

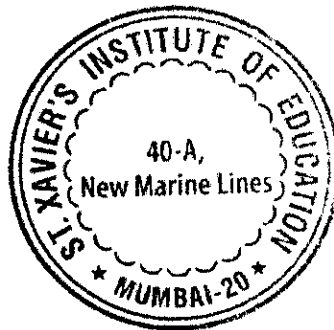

We thank you for the thought-provoking session conducted by you and Ms. Kalpana Chavan through the mode of team teaching under the Faculty Expertise Sharing for the Second Year B.Ed. students for the course Contemporary India and Education on the topic Stratification of Indian Society on 11th January, 2021 from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. The invaluable insights provided by you both throughout the session have immensely benefitted the students of both the Institutes (St. Xavier's Institute of Education, Mumbai University and Bombay Teachers' Training College, HSNC University). The interactive and participative team teaching has been stimulating to the students. This program has strengthened the linkages between the two Institutes.

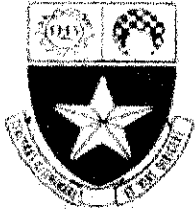

We look forward to many more such collaborations and resource sharing with you and your Institute.

Warm Regards,

Dr. Sosamma Samuel
